Welcome to the Session, Melissa Kujawa!

At this year’s annual meeting, Melissa Kujawa was elected to a four-year term on the Session. Melissa is excited to join Rick Romanski, Allen Schoeni, Kenneth Schmidt and Jeff Zeller as Elders of FPCR.

Melissa previously served as a Deacon. In addition, she takes great care of our church and can often be found dusting, vacuuming or just generally tidying up to assure the building is always in excellent condition and the sanctuary is ready for the next service. She even turns her love of the church into “family” time. Occasionally children Emma, Jackson, and Kate, along with husband Ryan, assist with needed tasks inside and outside of the building.

The members of FPCR are pleased to have Melissa in this leadership position! Welcome to the Session, Melissa, and thank you for your continued and loving dedication to FPCR!

Cookbooks Flew Off the Shelves!

On any given Sunday before or after church, it is not unusual to hear comments such as, "Oh, I made your recipe from the church cookbook. It was so good. Thank you for submitting it!" The First Presbyterian Church of Richfield 2018 cookbook, Heavenly Recipes, was filled with old and new favorites submitted by church members and friends.

Many church members purchased the books and are using them to prepare a variety of foods. However, "inside sales" were only a small portion of the total sales. The books sold to several for use as Christmas or thank you gifts as well as to those who enjoy reading and/or collecting cookbooks.

The books sold quickly and earned approximately $2,000 for the Reroof the Church Campaign 2018. Thank you to everyone who turned sales into shingles as well as to printing sponsor Ackerville Automotive LLC and other anonymous donors.

If you didn't have an opportunity to purchase a cookbook and are still interested, please send an email to: FirstPresbyofRichfield@gmail.com. There are a few books available, and we will be happy to send one to you. The cost would be $10 plus shipping.

We look forward to seeing you during this Easter season.

Services are held at 10 a.m. on Sundays at FPCR.

Plan to attend, bring a friend; and, if possible, a canned good for the Road to the Cross as we visually remind ourselves of Christ's journey to the cross.

Canned goods will be donated to the Slinger Food Pantry.

Just a Thought . . .

"Keep moving forward. God is not done with you yet. This is a long, twisty, turny business."

Update: The Search for a Minister

2018 proved to be an interesting year at the First Presbyterian Church of Richfield. As reported in the last newsletter, there have been many discussions about moving forward and what church members needed and wanted from FPCR. After members gave the approval to "yoke" with Lisbon Presbyterian Church, Sussex, WI, a job description was written and published by the Presbytery. One candidate surfaced from this process; however, that individual was not a fit for the needs of the two churches.

During 2018, church services were held as usual. FPCR members had the wonderful opportunity to hear several ministers who kindly agreed to prepare and deliver excellent services. At this time, the pulpit continues to be filled by Pastor Barbara Jordan or other substitute ministers (many of them happy to repeat their visit to Richfield). Thank you Elaine Schmidt, Clerk of Session, for your thoughtful scheduling.

The next step in the process is to complete paperwork to have the job description posted nationally. There is continued communication between FPCR and Lisbon Presbyterian Church, and everyone is interested to see what candidates may be found during the next step in this process.
